One of the most attractive young girls that has ever visited in Honolulu is Miss Helen Tillman of Seattle, Washington. Miss Tillman arrived on the Makura Tuesday and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Plummer and Miss Marguerite Plummer. Miss Tillman is a member of the Chi Omega Sorority of the University of Washington.

Captain Carter and Mr. Wall left for a hunting trip to Molokai. They will be gone for a week, both of them are crack shots and are sure to return to Honolulu with plentiful supply of game. There were several others in the party.

Mr. E. A. P. Newcomb and his sister, Mrs. Sarah Newcomb are spending the week-end at the Haleiwa Hotel.

There were thirty-one West Point graduates on the Transport Sherman en route to the Philippines where they have been assigned to different regiments of the U. S. Army.

Mr. and Mrs. Stone are building a beautiful bungalow on East Manoa road, which they will occupy before Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Duncan Christie have returned from their honeymoon, that was spent at Haleiwa, and have leased a furnished bungalow at Kaimuki, where they are now residing.

Mrs. Elliott of the Navy, who has been visiting Captain and Mrs. Gibson is now the guest of Major and Mrs. Rumbough. The service folk at Schofield Barracks have given a number of entertainments in honor of their distinguished visitor.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rice are the proud parents of a baby boy that was born on Monday, October 9th.

Mr. Frank Atherton has recently purchased the "Shaws" seaside home at Kahala. This suburban district is growing more and more popular. Most of the property in this district has been purchased with the view of the owners erecting attractive homes which will be occupied as summer residences.

Meeting of Humane Society.
One of the most interesting meetings of the Honolulu Humane Society took place Wednesday afternoon in the Alexander Young lounge room. The meeting was called to order promptly at 2 o'clock by the first vice-president, Mrs. Francis Mills Swanzy. A number of interesting topics were brought up concerning the humane work, and several valuable suggestions were made, which may be voted upon at the next meeting. The annual meeting will be held in the Alexander Young lounge room at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, October 25. It is hoped that the different members will make an effort to be present, for there will be an election of officers for the ensuing year, and several important matters are to be voted upon. It was decided at this last meeting that all the members of the society who are holding badges and are serving in the capacity of special officers be asked to attend the meeting and bring a report of the work that they have done for the past year.

Mrs. W. W. North's Bridge.
Mrs. W. W. North will entertain at three tables of bridge next Tuesday afternoon, in honor of Mrs. E. C. Brown. All of the invitations have not been issued, but the invited guests will include only intimate friends of the guest of honor.

Masquerade Ball.
The "Chiefs of Hawaii" are planning a masquerade ball that is to be given at the Colonial Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gregg gave an enjoyable motor party around the island of Oahu on Friday. There were six in the party, and they stopped at Haleiwa, where a delicious luncheon was served.

Captain and Mrs. Ernest Anderson were given a royal send-off when they departed, Wednesday morning, on the steamer Wilhelmina for their future home in California. They were both completely covered with leis, and the handsome bride was not only hidden with flowers, but steamer gifts, consisting of books, candy and other mementoes that go toward promoting the pleasure of a long sea voyage. The young couple did not board the steamer until a few minutes before the liner sailed, for they were busy saying goodbye to the numerous friends who were at the wharf to wish them bon voyage. As they went up the gangplank they were enveloped in a shower of rice, and the Royal Hawaiian Band played Lechegrin's wedding march. Mrs. Anderson was born and raised in the Islands and was a great favorite with everyone, for she couldn't help possessing legions of friends, for her sweet disposition and kindness of heart were appreciated by all.

Dance at Colonial Hotel.

Captain and Mrs. Ernest Anderson were tendered an enjoyable dancing party that was given Tuesday evening by their brother, Mr. Heinrich Rose. The event took place the evening before this popular young couple sailed for their home in California. There were about one hundred and fifty guests and the beautiful Colonial Hotel, which was the scene of the gaiety, was handsomely decorated in palms, mountain vines, white roses and asters. The host and his two guests of honor and Mrs. Wright and Miss Wright of Hawaii, received in the reception room, which had been converted into a tropical bower. Mrs. Ernest Anderson looked stunning in a blue meteor satin, made in a panel effect, heavily embroidered in pink and gold. The corsage was cut in a V effect, and gold fringe was an effective accessory to the gown. Mrs. Wright wore a chic frock of pink silk messaline with trimming of real lace and pink rose buds. During the reception they preceded the ball. Kaa's Hawaiian quintet club played and sang sweet melodies—this orchestra also furnished music for the dancing. At eleven o'clock a buffet supper was served and during the evening a delicious and refreshing punch was served by corps of Oriental servants on the South veranda. The costumes worn were beautiful and effective, but too numerous for a lengthy description. Mrs. George Beckley looked perfectly stunning in a Paris robe of cerise chiffon over satin, the only jewels worn was a pendant of pearls. Miss Whiting was a picture in blue crepe de chine, with silver and pearl trimmings. A gold band was worn in her coiffure and a large bouquet of violets in her corsage. Mrs. Charles Chillingworth was regal in a black chiffon over satin sequinned with jet. Mrs. Fannie Zeave looked handsome in an embroidered white net over black satin, trimmed in King's blue and black satin bands, the costume could easily be recognized as a New York creation. Miss Mary Johnson was clad in a beautiful costume of white net, sequinned in silver over black satin. Mrs. Lindsay of Hawaii wore a pale marquisette over satin of the same shade.

Mrs. R. R. Reldford's Reception.
Mrs. R. R. Reldford entertained at a small and informal tea Friday afternoon that was given in honor of Mrs. E. C. Brown. Only intimate friends of the guest of honor were bidden to the affair. Although the keynote of the entertainment was informality, the decorations were elaborate and beautiful, being carried out in the trailing bougainvillea vine, and cosmos in the same shade. During the afternoon delicious and dainty refreshments were served. Among those who participated in the delightful affair were Mrs. E. C. Brown, Mrs. John Drew, Mrs. Harry Webster, Mrs. Henry Cooper, Madam Derby, Mrs. Louis J. Warren, Mrs. George Guild, Mrs. W. H. O'Leary, Mrs. W. W. North, Mrs. L. C. Able, Mrs. Raymond Brown, Mrs. Frank Blake, Mrs. Charles Lucas, Mrs. F. McStocker, Mrs. F. E. Steere, Mrs. Marston Campbell, Mrs. J. K. Brown and others.

Senator and Mrs. Chillingworth's Dinner.
Sunday evening, Senator and Mrs. Charles Chillingworth were host and hostess at one of the most beautiful dinners of the season. The decorations were carried out in white and green, which were very appropriate, as the function was given in honor of Captain and Mrs. Ernest Anderson, whose marriage had taken place during the preceding week. Senator and Mrs. Chillingworth and their eight guests were seated at an oval table, through the center of the table was a bed of Shasta daisies and maiden-hair fern. The improvised garden extended from one end of the board to the other, the flowers and ferns being so cleverly arranged that they looked as if they were growing. Large bow-knots of white tulle were placed here and there, carrying out the "nuptial" idea. The chandeliers were entwined with malle and tulle, with the streamers reaching to the corners of the table. The place cards were hand-painted and garlanded with white marguerites. The dinner favors were miniature fancy baskets, filled with white and green bonbons; the handles of the baskets were concealed by smiles and ornamented with "moss" of white daisies. A pretty idea carried out in the ornamentation of the table was the placing of a miniature bride, dressed in flowing satins, and with the conventional tulle wedding veil caught with natural orange blossoms, at Mrs. Anderson's place—it is needless to state that she was delighted with the souvenir. Captain Anderson's trophy was a diminutive trunk, adorned with white satin ribbons.

MIGHT WORK WELL IN THIS CITY
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Sept. 27.—Governor Hadley yesterday addressed letters to the mayors of principal cities in the State asking their cooperation in a plan to observe October 3 as "fire prevention day," and says he will this week issue a proclamation naming the day. He believes that by calling attention to the necessity of thorough inspection of public and private buildings much will be saved from fire losses.

ROOTING BY GIRLS PUT UNDER A BAN
President of Old Willamette Also Prohibits Smoking On Campus.
SALEM, Ore., Sept. 29.—President Fletcher Homan, of Willamette University, in his annual matriculation address put a ban on co-ed's rooting at ball games or other athletic contests, forbidding the girls taking part in marches downtown. Smoking on the campus, card playing or other similar games is interdicted for the boys. This mandate gives a check to jolly-ups and rooting, as the girls were quite prominent and enthusiastic in helping arouse college "spirit."
